

Greetings from Ontario, Canada!

Many of our shooters in every state and province are at an age that ready access to a defibrillator is important. It just may save someone's life.

The Ontario Provincial Trapshooting Association had a portable unit donated to it by Seamus Tynan's company Ward & Burke Microtunnelling Ltd. This unit is a Canadian Red Cross approved G3. It comes with spare parts, a 4-year battery, and is sealed in a water-tight heavy duty plastic case.

The OPTA intends on taking this unit by one of its board members (or other designated person) to as many ATA shoots as possible. Some of our Ontario clubs have their own units. The cost of these units vary but appear to range from $1,200 to $1,500 (Canadian).

This is a great potentially life-saving opportunity that should be considered across all of our ATA clubs from coast to coast.

Spring shooting should be upon us when you read this article. Have a great season.
